

POLS 1101

Chapter 10 Study Guide

The Constitution and Congress

Bicameralism

Trustee, delegate, and politico models of representation

Jurisdictions and candidate requirements for House and Senate

Rules for congressional elections

Electoral connection

Redistricting and gerrymandering

 Packing and cracking

 Racial redistricting

Incumbency advantage

Reelection as a proximate goal

Party leaders in Congress

Role of parties in Congress

Committee system

Committee markup

Role of the House Rules Committee

Cloture and the filibuster in the Senate

Conference committees

Presidential veto and veto override

How much support needed to pass/defeat legislation

Differences between the House and the Senate

Congressional oversight