Political Rewind, 04 Dec 2018

WGPA, Audrey, Sam, Mike & Kevin, Thanks for agreeing to be on Rewind tomorrow at 2. Here are some thoughts on the two races on the ballot. Given that Democrats have been especially concerned about how the secret ballot will affect voters for Barrow. But the early voting demographics were much more favorable to Raffensperger. <https://politics.myajc.com/blog/politics/barrow-returns-roots-closing-stretch-runoff/DSgVqJnCieuQI7D> slumps-before-tuesday-runoff-election/zgrjLOSZF75Gv2JPdV8Y4J/ We can also take a quick look at the report now released its recommendations, which include a stronger focus on mental health, among other things. https://www.editor.net/64988db09d8e4c59aa9053e172d3a5e3/files/uploaded/2018_11_13_Final%2520Report%20-%20Final.pdf Kevin, your guys in the Jolt expressed some surprise that the committee also criticized the media for its coverage of his GOP colleagues in the state house. He has a history of voting “no” on most every bill that comes up for Hurricane Michael relief. Less government may be good...saving taxpayer money may be a corollary. <https://politics.myajc.com/blog/politics/bipartisan-group-blasts-lawmaker-who-opposed-hurricane-relief-reform-bill> It passed the house by a wide margin, but has been slowed up in the senate, where Tom Hovde, which he expresses optimism that Mitch McConnell will bring the bill up for a vote “within a few weeks.” discuss this: https://thehill.com/hilltv/rising/419447-georgia-lawmaker-says-hes-optimistic-about-passing-reform reform isn’t going anywhere right now: <https://www.politico.com/story/2018/12/03/criminal-justice-reform-is-not-going-anywhere-right-now> in Palm Springs the other day. She hinted at a next run for office without indicating what it might be. I hope you are doing well! I am emailing you both today to ask if you would be interested in being on a panel to engage with incoming students and their families outside of small groups and Dawg Talks. Each week we discuss what makes UGA so special and to provide advice and their experiences to incoming students. If you are available for a session with you all for the week of July 6th. We like to block off an hour for this, but it usually only last 30 minutes. You both could send us some availability, if you're able. The recording session will take place on Squarespace. If you are an event that you're able to join us, we will send you production notes that have the recording date, some feedback from you, and hope you have a wonderful week!
