

UNDERGRADUATE PAPER COMPETITION

CALL FOR PAPERS

The American Founding Group, housed in the Department of Political Science, invites undergraduate students to submit papers for its First Annual Undergraduate Paper Competition. We welcome papers discussing any topic related to America's Founding Era. Broad topics include liberty, citizenship, or rights, and other topics only partially related to the American Founding. Papers may be any length, although papers between 5-8 pages are ideal (double-spaced, 12-point font, with a title page). All papers should be submitted to Adam Rutkowski at agr2017@uga.edu by April 15 in pdf or Word format. The first place recipient will receive a prize of $700; the second place recipient will receive a prize of $500; and the third place recipient will receive a prize of $300.00.

If you wish to have your paper looked over and given comments before the April 15th deadline, please send your paper to Adam Rutkowski (agr2017@uga.edu) by April 1st. Your paper will be returned with comments shortly thereafter.
