Course Description
This course is designed to provide a comprehensive overview of politics in the South from the pre-civil rights era to the present. Students will be exposed to detailed information and materials relating to black disenfranchisement, [re]enfranchisement and mobilization; social and economic changes in the region; political party transformation; the role of religion in political matters; and the effects of redistricting and reapportionment on political outcomes. After completing this course students should have a firm grasp of political changes that have occurred in the region over the last fifty years, as well as a clear picture of the current political situation.

Required Materials:
Texts (Available at the Off-Campus Bookstore, Baxter Street Books, or Amazon):
- The Dynamics of Southern Politics [978-1-4522-8727-0]
- The Three Governor’s Controversy [978-0-8203-4734-9]
- Black Votes Count: Political Empowerment in Mississippi After 1965 [0-8078-4274-5]
- Other readings will be made available electronically via ELC.

Course Expectations:
Participation: This class is organized around the assumption that students will both attend class and prepare for class by performing the set of assigned readings. While in class, students are further expected to participate in discussions and answer questions posed by the instructor. Obviously, it is difficult to participate in class discussions without being physically present. In order to adequately prepare for class, all assigned readings should be examined by the dates indicated on the course website. Not all of the readings will be discussed in class; however, this does not negate your responsibility to know the assignment materials.
Grading Scheme:
- Mid-Term Exam\(^1\) 50%
- Final Exam\(^1\) 50%

Grading Scale:

General Class Schedule:
A detailed schedule will be posted on ELC that will contain information on weekly reading assignments as well as important announcements.
