Course Description and Objectives:

The primary objective of this course is to provide an examination of human decision making as central to the analysis of foreign policy. This course investigates how decision makers – both individuals and groups – make decisions regarding foreign policy. By exploring this subject through the lens of cognitive and behavioral science, the student will evaluate the degree by which elites and the public rely on decision heuristics and biases when making foreign policy judgements.

Required Reading:

There is one (1) required text for this course:

Additional readings can be found via eLC, unless otherwise noted.

Course Evaluation and Grading

Your final grade will be based on the sum of points earned from each of the following assignments:

- Participation: 10%
- Short Papers: 15%
- Midterm Exam: 20%
- Final Exam: 25%
- Proposal: 5%
- Paper: 25%

Class Structure: This course will use a hybrid-flexible (hyflex) approach to ensure that all students can participate within the course instruction. Students will be separated into two groups (Group 1 and Group 2). These groups will be assigned prior to the semester start and posted on eLC.

During the first half of the semester (prior to midterm), the course will provide online instruction via a weekly lecture series hosted via eLC; this will take the place of the usual Tuesday classes. During the following Thursdays, class will meet face-to-face. These in-person lectures will also be simultaneously broadcasted via Zoom, as well as recorded and uploaded to eLC following the class meeting for posterity.

During the second half of the semester (after the midterm), the course will provide in-person instruction each class meeting. These meetings will again be simultaneously broadcasted via Zoom, as well as recorded and uploaded to eLC for posterity.

Finally, after resuming class instruction after the conclusion of the Thanksgiving break, the course will move to a completely online format, wherein the class will meet in its entirety via Zoom and discuss that week’s subject matter. These meetings as well, will be recorded and uploaded to eLC.

Note: All Zoom meeting rooms will be password-protected. The meeting rooms will be scheduled, and passwords distributed prior to semester start.

Attendance: There is no formal attendance policy for this course. However, your regular attendance – either in-person or virtually – is necessary for success in this class because missing class disrupts your ability to participate and turn in assignments. It also detracts from other students’ opportunities to benefit from your insights during discussions.

Participation: Participation in class will account for 10 percent of your final grade. A successful student will voluntarily make substantive contributions to class discussion each class, volunteers comments and questions that demonstrate thorough completion of the assigned readings, and actively participates in assigned group work. Simply showing up to class does not constitute participation. Further, disruptive or disrespectful behavior such as using cell phones, sleeping, or surfing the web will cause a deduction in your participation grade, regardless of your fulfillments of the above expectations.

Short Papers: Select three (3) topics identified in the syllabus. The purpose of the (750-word) essays is to apply course concepts to contemporary foreign policy issues. These essays can also be used to motivate your thesis for your final paper. Essays will be due on eLC by 11:59PM of the Monday following the discussion of readings.

Exams: Both the midterm and final exams will draw upon both the assigned readings and class materials. Lectures and class discussions are intended to supplement, not replace, the readings. You are responsible for all information in the assigned readings, even if we have not gone over it in lecture, unless otherwise noted by the instructor. The exams will be supplied via eLC and will be in essay format. More information will become available nearer to exam dates.

Proposal and Paper: Each student will submit an 8-10 page paper detailing a topic of the student’s choice. Students will submit a 2-page proposal outlining their proposed topic and argument, the relevant historical and theoretical perspectives that will be examined, and a preliminary bibliography. Students may select any topic relating to a theoretical dynamic of a singular or series of foreign policy decisions. The proposal is due on eLC by 11:59PM on Tuesday, 13 October. Final papers will be due by 11:59PM on Tuesday, 8 December. An Assignment folder will be on eLC for students to submit their papers. Late papers will be penalized 10 points per day from final paper grade. Additional details and a rubric for both the paper will be discussed and given nearer to proposal due date.
Overall Grades: Letter grades are constructed to reflect the university standards posted at [http://bulletin.uga.edu/Bulletin_Files/acad/Grades.html], which are summarized below. Letter grades will be based on how many points you earn according to the following distribution:

- 93-100   A
- 90-92    A-
- 87-89    B+
- 83-86    B
- 80-82    B-
- 77-79    C+
- 73-76    C
- 70-72    C-
- 60-69    D
- < 60     F

Course Policies

Academic Honesty

As a University of Georgia student, you have agreed to abide by the University’s academic honesty policy, “A Culture of Honesty,” and the Student Honor Code. All academic work must meet the standards described in “A Culture of Honesty” found at: www.uga.edu/honesty. Lack of Knowledge of the academic honesty policy is not a reasonable explanation for a violation. Questions related to course assignments and the academic honesty policy should be directed to the instructor.

Disability Statement

Students with disabilities that have been certified by the UGA Disabilities Services offices will be accommodated according to university policy. Students with disabilities who require reasonable accommodations in order to participate in course activities or meet course requirements should contact the instructor or designate during regular office hours or by appointment. For more information, contact UGA Disabilities Services at 706-542-8719.

Student Resources

You can increase your chance of success in this course by using UGA’s academic services. The Division of Academic Enhancement offers tutoring in Collaborative Academic and Retention Effort (CARE) that can help with overall course performance and in writing that can help with critical thinking exercises. You also may check out opportunities at the Miller Learning Center [http://mlc.uga.edu/] and the Writing Center [http://writingcenter.english.uga.edu/].

Coronavirus Information

Face Coverings:

Effective July 15, 2020, the University of Georgia—along with all University System of Georgia (USG) institutions—requires all faculty, staff, students and visitors to wear an appropriate face covering while inside campus facilities/buildings where six feet social distancing may not always be possible. Face covering use is in addition to and is not a substitute for social distancing. Anyone not using a face covering when required will be asked to wear one or must leave the area. Face shields are NOT a substitute for face masks. Reasonable accommodations may be made for those who are unable to wear a face covering for documented health reasons. Students seeking an accommodation related to face coverings should contact Disability Services at https://drc.uga.edu/.
DawgCheck:

Please perform a quick symptom check each weekday on DawgCheck—on the UGA app or website—whether you feel sick or not. It will help health providers monitor the health situation on campus: https://dawgcheck.uga.edu/.

What do I do if I have symptoms:

Students showing symptoms should self-isolate and schedule an appointment with the University Health Center by calling 706-542-1162 (Monday-Friday, 8 a.m.-5 p.m.). Please DO NOT walk-in. For emergencies and after-hours care, see https://www.uhs.uga.edu/info/emergencies.

What do I do if I am notified that I have been exposed:

Students who learn they have been directly exposed to COVID-19 but are not showing symptoms should self-quarantine for 14 days consistent with Department of Public Health (DPH) and Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) guidelines. Please correspond with your instructor via email, with a cc: to Student Care & Outreach at sco@uga.edu, to coordinate continuing your coursework while self-quarantined. If you develop symptoms, you should contact the University Health Center to make an appointment to be tested. You should continue to monitor your symptoms daily on DawgCheck.

How do I get a test:

Students who are demonstrating symptoms of COVID-19 should call the University Health Center. UHC is offering testing by appointment for students; appointments may be booked by calling 706-542-1162.

UGA will also be recruiting asymptomatic students to participate in surveillance tests. Students living in residence halls, Greek housing and off-campus apartment complexes are encouraged to participate.

What do I do if I test positive:

Any student with a positive COVID-19 test is required to report the test in DawgCheck and should self-isolate immediately. Students should not attend classes in-person until the isolation period is completed. Once you report the positive test through DawgCheck, UGA Student Care and Outreach will follow up with you.
