Student Hours: 1:00-3:00pm Tuesdays over Zoom, or by appointment.

Required Texts:

• None

Objectives: This course is designed as a comprehensive introduction to public opinion and participation in the comparative context, including in Latin America, Africa, Asia, Europe, and the United States. Topics we will cover include the origins of public opinion, the use of public opinion surveys in elections, turnout and voting, varieties of political participation, protest, the effects of institutions on participation, and attitudes towards democracy. This course will also introduce students to the basics of social science research. Students should leave this course with greater familiarity in understanding and communicating social science research, as well as how to better analyze these issues on their own.

Course Structure:
Class will follow a face-to-face online remote hybrid option. This approach has been selected because it allows for interaction both in-person and online, as well as a complete day of remote learning per week where all students can meet with their fellow student colleagues over Zoom. This allows us greater opportunity to share thoughts and perspectives on the readings and global events with each other. To comply with social distancing standards for classrooms, not all students can come to each day of face-to-face class. Therefore, face-to-face classes will be accompanied with a live-feed (which will also be recorded) which can be accessed over Zoom. Given these pieces of information, the general schedule for a week will look like this:

• Monday (face-to-face): Students A-L can show up for class
• Wednesday (face-to-face): Students M-Z can show up for class
• Friday (remote): All students meet online for class on Zoom

Note that the first Monday (August 24) will be held online as a planning/introduction day. Additionally, after Thanksgiving, all classes will be held online.

Perusall: All readings and lecture slides will be available on Perusall. Perusall is a cool e-reader which allows for collaborative annotation of readings and videos with both me and your peers.
Assignment due dates and reminders are also included in Perusall to help you keep track of readings. It is free to create an account. After you have done so, our course can be accessed by entering the code WILLIAMS-ESCVR.

Grading

- Participation (25%): Attendance will not be taken and participation will be evaluated in multiple ways. Active participation implies paying attention in class (either online or in-person), engagement with the material and with your fellow student colleagues. There will be no preference in grading given to live participation that comes from either in-person or remote sessions. Please come prepared to class having read and willing to discuss the assigned material. Keep in mind these points as you read:
  1. What is the author’s main point or argument?
  2. What evidence do they use to support their argument?
  3. Is there contradicting evidence?
  4. How does the author’s argument relate to the other readings from the course?

  Participation will also be evaluated by your comments, annotations, and responses to the readings, videos, and slides on Persusall.

- Midterm: (25%) The midterm exam will be delivered electronically and will cover content up until this point. Although this exam will be open-note and book, I HIGHLY recommend studying before-hand.

- Final project: (50%) The final project will encompass multiple parts over the course of the semester. The goal of this project is to research more deeply into a single topic in a particular context/contexts and examine its causes, effects, and specific details. Also, be creative and choose something that is of interest to you!

  - Paper proposal: (10%): 1-2 page proposal of your project idea with description of your main points.
- Annotated Bibliography: (10%): 5-7 of your main ACADEMIC sources will be used in your project. Include brief descriptions of the source’s theory, methodology, and application to your argument and paper.

- Virtual Poster: (40%): create an academic poster will cover the main points of your research topic. The poster should cover the following information:
  * Introduction
  * Background
  * Theory and Expectations
  * Method
  * Results
  * Conclusion/Discussion

For examples of academic posters see here. Academic posters can be created with Microsoft Word, PowerPoint, or any other program. For a guide on how to create an academic poster see this page.

Upload your poster to the Posters thread on eLC in the Discussions folder with a 3-5 sentence outline of your project.

- Poster feedback (15%) Feedback to each of your group members. You should provide constructive criticism of your student colleagues research and provide concrete ways at least 3 ways their research could improve with details.

- Poster response/reflection: (25%) Describe possible alterations to your project based on the feedback you received, as well as potential problems and avenues for future improvement if you were to move forward with this research. More details on this will be provided later in the semester.

Coronavirus Information for Students

Face Coverings:
Effective July 15, 2020, the University of Georgia—along with all University System of Georgia (USG) institutions—requires all faculty, staff, students and visitors to wear an appropriate face covering while inside campus facilities/buildings where six feet social distancing may not always be possible. Face covering use is in addition to and is not a substitute for social distancing. Anyone not using a face covering when required will be asked to wear one or must leave the area. Reasonable accommodations may be made for those who are unable to wear a face covering for documented health reasons. Students seeking an accommodation related to face coverings should contact Disability Services at https://drc.uga.edu/.

DawgCheck:
Please perform a quick symptom check each weekday on DawgCheck—on the UGA app or website—whether you feel sick or not. It will help health providers monitor the health situation on campus: https://dawgcheck.uga.edu/.

What do I do if I have Symptoms?:
Students showing symptoms should self-isolate and schedule an appointment with the University Health Center by calling 706-542-1162 (Monday-Friday, 8 a.m.-5 p.m.). Please DO NOT walk-in. For emergencies and after-hours care, see https://www.uhs.uga.edu/info/emergencies.

What do I do if I am notified that I have been exposed?
Students who learn they have been directly exposed to COVID-19 but are not showing symptoms should self-quarantine for 14 days consistent with Department of Public Health (DPH) and Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) guidelines. Please correspond with your instructor via email, with a cc: to Student Care & Outreach at sco@uga.edu to coordinate continuing your coursework while self-quarantined. If you develop symptoms, you should contact the University Health Center to make an appointment to be tested. You should continue to monitor your symptoms daily on DawgCheck.

How do I get a test?
Students who are demonstrating symptoms of COVID-19 should call the University Health Center. UHC is offering testing by appointment for students; appointments may be booked by calling 706-542-1162.
UGA will also be recruiting asymptomatic students to participate in surveillance tests. Students living in residence halls, Greek housing and off-campus apartment complexes are encouraged to participate.

What do I do if I test positive?
Any student with a positive COVID-19 test is required to report the test in DawgCheck and should self-isolate immediately. Students should not attend classes in-person until the isolation period is completed. Once you report the positive test through DawgCheck, UGA Student Care and Outreach will follow up with you.
