Textbooks

The main text for this course will guide most of our weekly discussions. However, additional materials may be assigned weekly to supplement course material. These can include: journal and newspaper articles, podcasts, or videos. Hyperlinks to these additional reading materials are available at the end of the syllabus in the Weekly Schedule, but the links will also be made available on ELC. It is expected that you will have read all of the assigned readings prior to the start of each class.

Course Description

The course serves as an introduction to the major institutions, actors, and agencies responsible for the administration of criminal justice in the United States. We will primarily focus on the broad and discrete areas of the criminal justice system – including, but not limited to: criminal behavior and theory, police, arrest, bail, prosecution, plea bargaining, conviction, sentencing, correction, probation, and reentry. We will also spend a good deal of time focusing on current events and the broader legal implications of modern criminal justice.

Course Objectives

After successfully completing the course, students will be able to:

- Correctly identify the major actors, institutions, and agencies within the American criminal justice system, as well as the roles that they play.

- Correctly identify the common procedures and practices within American criminal justice.

- Illustrate a concrete understanding of broad and niche topics within criminal justice, including their progression throughout history.
Evaluation

Examinations: The two exams (Midterm and Final) will combine multiple choice, true/false, and short answer questions. Personal makeups or any other adjustments to our exam schedule can only be permitted in extraordinary circumstances such as documented medical emergencies. The exams will test material from your readings, lectures, and classroom discussions. While some topics discussed before the midterm will naturally spillover into topics later in the semester, the exams will not be strictly cumulative.

End of Semester White Paper Report: By the end of the semester, you will complete an original report that analyzes a major area of criminal justice in the United States. The topic is entirely at your discretion, but the report you submit should cover: its importance → history and evolution → modern circumstances and/or criticisms → and a discussion on possible remedies and reforms. A detailed prompt, rubric, and report tips will be available in ELC under Course Documents.

Regardless of your the area you choose to analyze, you must submit a document explaining the choice with a general outline, as well as provide a sample bibliography of at least 10 sources that you plan to employ in your paper in a proper citation format. You are not tied to these 10 sources, nor do I expect them to be all that you use in your final paper, but you must submit the topic and sample bibliography by Sunday September 19th (on ELC) as proof that you have devoted the necessary time and resources to constructing the paper. If you have specific report questions, please don’t hesitate to ask!

Once you have received approval to proceed with your self-selected topic, you will need to submit a first draft to the instructor on ELC by Sunday November 14th. Please note that your submission needs to be a completed draft that you would feel comfortable submitting for review.

Critical Response Essays: During the course of the term, you will be required to complete one critical response essay prompt that will be submitted via ELC. A general rubric and essay tips will be made available in the Course Materials section of ELC.

There will be (3) prompts posted to ELC with individual due dates, but you are free to choose which to complete. I would highly recommend that you consider which paper you will be completing early based on your personal schedule. The paper will be submitted to ELC.

The response paper should be approximately 6-8 pages double-spaced (12 pt font, Times New Roman). The structure of the paper will ultimately depend on how the question is structured, but they should generally follow the traditional essay format (Thesis → Body Paragraphs → Conclusion → Works Cited). I have no preference for which citation style you use, so long as it is consistent and present. All I ask is that you only use reputable sources (aka, no Wikipedia, Encyclopedia Britannica, etc.). If you have specific essay questions, please don’t hesitate to ask!

Participation: Your participation will be gauged primarily by your attendance and participation in the weekly lecture periods. This definitely considers whether you have done the reading(s).

I will not be taking attendance every day, but I will at random periods throughout the semester. That being said, I am fully aware that people have other things going on in their lives. If you happen to be absent on a day that I take attendance, please recognize that I allow (2) free absences without justification – i.e., you do not need to tell me why you are missing class. If you would like to receive an excused absence – e.g., things related to personal or family emergencies, please be sure to email me and we will handle those situations on a case-by-case basis. Excused absences will not count towards your (2) free absences.

My Advice: Make sure I know your name by the end of the semester. Especially when it comes down to those moments where you are teetering between thresholds for different grades, it really helps if I know who you are because you are an active participant in the course.

Grading Breakdown

- Midterm ........................................ 25 %
- Final ........................................... 25 %
- End of Semester White Paper Report ............ 25 %
- Critical Response Essay .......................... 15 %
- Participation ................................... 10 %

Grading Scale for Final Semester Grades

- 100-94 A 79-77 C+ 63-60 D-
- 93-90 A- 76-74 C 59-0 F
- 89-87 B+ 73-70 C-
- 86-64 B 69-67 D+
- 83-80 B- 66-64 D

Please note: There is no standard policy for rounding grades. Rounding decisions will be made on a case-by-case basis, and your participation level throughout the course can heavily influence that decision.

Course Structure

As per the University’s guidance for the Fall Semester, this course will be taught face-to-face in a normal classroom environment – i.e., for all intents and purposes, we’re getting back to normal! As such, I will not be hosting synchronous ZOOM sessions to correspond with every class date. However, I will be posting the lecture slides to ELC after every class period.

If for some reason we need to move class to ZOOM (for one class period or indefinitely), you will be given sufficient notice.

Communication with Instructor

If you need to contact me for any reason, I do ask that you aim to primarily use your UGA email address rather than ELC. I am generally very good about responding to emails quickly, but please understand that I likely will not respond until the next day if the message is sent late in the night.

Email: jake.truscott@uga.edu

Attendance Policy

As noted, since the course is structured to be normal and face-to-face, it is expected that you arrive for the class periods when they are scheduled. However, I will only be taking attendance at random throughout the semester.
If you need to miss class because of a legitimate reason that would accompany an excused absence (e.g., sickness, family or personal emergency, etc.), that is entirely fine. I just ask that you keep an open line of communication with me as things happen.

Like I noted previously, everyone will be given (2) unexcused absences throughout the term that you are free to use as any point and for any reason without damaging your participation grade. Just know that this does not excuse you from exam dates.

COVID-19

As per guidelines established earlier this year, the University of Georgia is aiming to resume normal operations to the fullest extent possible. To summarize the related commentary provided throughout this syllabus, the course will be structured in a way that aims to meet these goals – i.e., in-person lectures with a standardized course structure. That being said, if University guidelines change in any way related to Healthy and Safety procedures stemming from the COVID-19 pandemic, the course will adjust in tandem. Unless and until then, it is expected that we follow normal procedures and operations.

While you are present at lecture, I do ask that you practice camaraderie towards your classmates as we adjust away from pandemic classroom protocols. Per the University’s guidance, we are not permitted to require that face-masks be worn or that social distancing be enforced as it was during the 2020-2021 academic year – though we strongly encourage it when possible and/or necessary. I also ask that you please respect and observe necessary cleanliness standards that the University recommends for maintaining health and preventing the spread of disease – e.g., washing hands, cleaning work stations, etc.

I would like for this to serve as an open notice that there is no set University structure or policy for COVID-related absences or assignment extensions. Any and all of these circumstances, if they emerge, will be handled on a case-by-case basis. Above all, you should be concerned with your personal health and the health of your classmates. If you are feeling unwell for any reason, regardless of a COVID-19 diagnosis, I ask that you please refrain from attending lectures until you have a clean bill of health. I am absolutely willing and able to coordinate with you concerning any extensions or missed work. All I ask is that you maintain an open line of communication – i.e., do not wait until weeks afterwards to inform me that you were sick and need a pass to submit an assignment late. I am better suited to help you if you bring any (and all) issues to me with a greater sense of urgency.

Academic Honesty

You are responsible for knowing and complying with the policy and procedures relating to academic honesty. To understand what constitutes dishonest work, as defined by the University, please carefully review the policy here: https://honesty.uga.edu/_resources/documents/academic_honesty_policy_2017.pdf

Syllabus Policy

I reserve the right to make changes to the syllabus, if necessary. I will give you fair notice (at least a week) if something, such as a reading assignment, is to change.

Disability Resource Center

If you anticipate needing accommodations due to the impact of a disability or medical condition, you must register for services with the Disability Resource Center. Additional information can be found here: http://drc.uga.edu/
Withdrawal Policy

Undergraduate students can only withdraw from four courses and receive a withdrawalpassing (WP) grade while enrolled at the University. Students can drop any class without penalty during the drop/add period at the beginning of every semester. Dropped courses during the drop/add period do not qualify as withdrawals. Instructors have the ability to withdraw a student from the class due to excessive absences (see course attendance policy). Please review the policy here: https://reg.uga.edu/general-information/policies/withdrawals/
