Course Description:

This course is intended to provide students with a basic understanding of political science. Throughout the semester we will examine different topics of political science research as well as different approaches taken towards understanding those topics. The course involves an in-depth analysis of political actors and institutions. Common modes of scientific analysis in political science will be examined with an emphasis on research design, strategic behavior, rational choice theory and basic statistical techniques. A basic understanding of high school math is assumed.

Course Goals:

The primary goals of this course are two-fold. First, students should be provided with a conceptual background and toolset that they can use to critically analyze what is written in the newspaper or said in the news today, tomorrow, and in the more distant future. Second, it is expected that upon completion of this course students will be able to both understand and conduct scholarly research.

Required Books and Readings:

The following book is required and available on amazon.com:

Van Belle, Douglas. 2020. A Novel Approach to Politics. 6th Ed. Washington, D.C.: CQ Press.

Students will not only be expected to have done the reading assignments, but should also be aware of relevant news stories. As such, I recommend reading a daily newspaper – such as the New York Times and/or the Washington Post – or at least checking cnn.com. Other political blogs that students may find useful include FiveThirtyEight, Political Wire, The Monkey Cage, The Upshot, Vox, the Drudge Report and Roll Call.

Additional readings will be posted on the course website and/or ELC. Many of these readings will be highly technical in nature. As such, students are not expected to understand all aspects of each paper. However, they will be held accountable for a basic understanding of the paper's theory and applications.

Course Grading:

Your grade in this class will be assigned according to the following:

1. Background Survey (5% of final grade): Students will be asked to fill out a short background survey for the purposes of matching them with a paper topic. The deadline to fill out the survey is Thursday, August 24 at 5 pm.
2. Class Attendance/Participation (10% of final grade): One of the goals for this class is for students to become comfortable discussing political institutions, issues, events and research. Hence, they will be encouraged to attend and participate in course discussions. Students will be given one point for attending the class, and an additional point for adequate participation. The lowest two attendance/participation grades will be dropped. A student's participation grade may also include several small quizzes or assignments.
3. Midterm Exams (50% of final grade): Two examinations (worth 25% each) will be given during the course. The dates are listed on the syllabus as Tuesday, October 3 and Thursday, November 30. These exams will consist of multiple choice and short essay questions. They may also feature several exercises where students will apply techniques discussed in class. The examinations will be non-cumulative. If a student is unable to take one of the exams on the scheduled date, they should contact the course instructor beforehand. Missed exams will only be excused for a documented illness (documentation must be provided by a physician) or a death in the family. The November 30 exam (Exam 2) will be held in the regular classroom, Baldwin 202 during the regular course time.
4. Research Paper (35% of final grade): Students will be expected to complete either a research design proposal or a detailed legislative history. The paper should be a minimum of 12 pages in length (typed, double-spaced, one inch margins, Times New Roman, 12 point font, Chicago style citations). Students will be allowed to choose the topic of their paper or legislative history. The instructor will be available during office hours and through e-mail for consultation. The paper is due Tuesday, December 12 at 5:00pm. Papers will be docked a full letter grade for each day they are late. A more detailed discussion of the paper project will be provided on ELC.

Final course grades will be assigned as follows: 100-93 = A, 90-92 = A-, 87-89 = B+, 83-86 = B, 80-82 = B-, 77-79 = C+, 73-76 = C, 70-72 = C-, 60-69 = D, and 60-0. Extra credit will not be given in this course. A grade of a C or higher is necessary in order to be admitted as a Political Science major. The withdrawal date for this semester is Monday, October 24th.
