COURSE DESCRIPTION AND OBJECTIVES

This course introduces you to contemporary issues in global politics. It is designed for those who have no prior knowledge of international affairs. We will examine some of the most pressing, political, environmental, and economic problems currently facing the global community. The idea is to introduce the issues and discuss different points of view on them so that students can develop and articulate informed views on possible solutions to the world's most pressing problems.

The class is divided into five major sections (1) foundations and principles of global politics, (2) non-state actors and global governance, (3) international law and global governance, (4) global conflict and (in)security, and (5) global economy and sustainability.

Upon completion of this course, you should be (better) able to:

- Identify key global issues and the main actors on the global stage
- Recognize connections between local and global issues
- Discuss major problems facing the world today, including issues related to the environment, nationalism, human rights, security, and economic development
- Compare and contrast key processes of the international system as well as explain how different actors approach global issues differently
- Develop and strengthen analytical and critical thinking skills

We will often discuss contentious political issues and I expect all students to treat each other – and their ideas – with respect, even as we might disagree with each other. You should discredit ideas and arguments, not people. Interruptions, slurs, or making fun of students or their views will not be tolerated. Responses should be respectful, utilize facts, and include complimentary language as well.

COURSE READINGS

There is no required textbook for this course. All readings will be available free of charge through the eLC course page or the Main Library.

- You are also required to follow international news daily by either using the Internet or by subscribing to a major national daily. Current events questions will be part of quizzes and/or class participation assignments.
- You need to be able to locate various countries on a map, so make sure you have access to an up-to-date atlas.
- It is expected that you will complete the course reader listed on the syllabus and/or posted on the eLC course page prior to coming to class. Should you fail to do the readings it will be evident in your lack of participation during class discussions.
- Lectures and class discussion are intended to supplement, not duplicate, the readings. Quizzes and assignments will draw upon course reader and class notes.

COURSE FORMAT

Each of you learns differently. That matters to me. To give you flexibility and autonomy in the learning process while balancing all these priorities, we will be using a discussion-based course format. You will engage with required readings and videos before coming to class and we will dedicate class time to application of the material through case studies, discussions, and hands-on activities. The discussion-based format allows us to spend class time engaging in activities that enhance your understanding of concepts rather than lecturing. When conducting hands-on case studies and practicing new skills in class, you will be able to explore new concepts in your own way, at your own pace, in a controlled and supportive environment. Research and my own teaching show a dramatic increase in student learning in a discussion-based setting compared to traditional methods.

- Mondays will be open lab days, where you are expected to watch the bulk of the lecture videos for the module, complete the required readings alone or in small groups, and work on the module assignments.
- On Wednesdays and Fridays, we will have mini lectures going over important concepts, address the module discussion question, and apply the module content to current events in class.

This course consists of six modules, including a Welcome Module, each covering various topics and learning materials. Each topic within the modules will include the following:

1. Short lecture videos.
2. Required readings.
3. A collection of supplementary materials and video links for further exploration (including lecture slides for notetaking and review).

At the end of each module, students will submit the following:

1. Module discussion board contributions (one original response to the prompt and one response to a classmate)
2. A module quiz (online, open notes, multiple choice)

To ensure a well-structured and organized learning experience, each module will adhere to a specific schedule. Typically, modules will open on a Monday at 10:00 am and remain accessible until all related topics have been covered, with closure on the last Monday at 9:00 am. Please refer to the Course Schedule for individual module availability and due dates.

Your active engagement with the course material (both online and in-class) is crucial for your success in this class. It is essential to participate in the online lectures and complete the assigned readings. Moreover, regular attendance in class meetings, scheduled for Wednesdays and Fridays, is vital. These in-person sessions will offer valuable activities that complement, rather than duplicate, the online content. By following these guidelines, you will enhance your learning experience and make the most of this course.

GRADING

Your course grade is calculated from the following components:

- 40%- Six module quizzes (one for each module)- Due by Monday at 9:00 am (EST) on the week it is assigned.
- 30%- Six module discussion board contributions (one for each module)- Due by Monday at 9:00 am (EST) on the week it is assigned.
- 20%- Political Engagement Activity
 - 10%- PEA Proposal – Due by October 3rd at 9:00 am
 - 10%- PEA Final Report – Due by December 5th at 9:00 am
- 10%- Map Test – In class on September 15th

~ Module Quizzes (40%) ~

At the end of each module, there will be a short (around 10 questions) multiple choice quiz for you to complete. These quizzes will be graded automatically within eLC. Reading the required readings, attending the class lectures and activities, watching the short videos, and going over the longer set of slides for each of the module's topics should prepare you for each quiz. The quizzes are open note and open book.

These quizzes will allow two attempts to present students with the opportunity to learn from and improve their comprehension of the material. After the final quiz attempt is submitted, the average attempt score will be counted toward that student's quiz score. Thus, for example, if a student gets a 95% and 85%, the student's quiz score for that quiz will be 90 percent. Please note that if a student chooses to take the quiz only one time, that score will be their final score. Be aware that quiz questions for each attempt are randomly drawn from a large question pool, which means there is a high probability that you will get a completely different set of 10 questions for each quiz attempt. Please also note that quizzes in which no attempt was made will not be accepted past the deadlines (mentioned in the schedule below), so please be sure to work well ahead of these deadlines.

~ Discussion Board Contributions (30%) -

There will be a discussion board for each module. I will start off the discussion board with some questions about the topics for that week. For each module, you will contribute at least one thoughtful response (a minimum of 300 words) to the discussion board question that references the course materials and respond to another student's post. Your response is to be grounded in the assigned materials. To ensure that everyone has the opportunity to engage with colleagues and consider alternative perspectives, students must also respond to another student's post (so, for each module discussion, you will need to post one original response to the discussion question and one response to a classmate). You can respond as often as you like, of course...you are not limited to one. The idea is to get a conversation going.

- You MUST type your assignment directly into the dialogue box provided for the appropriate discussion board, not upload it as a word or google doc. The assignment may require you to refer to class readings, the lecture video, any required audio or video, and/or some outside sources.
- To earn credit for answering the discussion question, you must submit one original post and one response to a classmate for each discussion question before the end of the module. This will give everyone the opportunity to engage with colleagues and consider alternative perspectives.
- You will need to properly cite any sources you use other than my lecture videos. You may use any citation format you are familiar with as long as you cite your resources properly and correctly.
- A rubric can be found on eLC.

~ Political Engagement Report (20%) ~

20% of your final grade is based on a political engagement report. The purpose of this assignment is for students to take part in global politics as an informed global citizen. You have voice and power in all the issues that we are discussing this semester. You need to start engaging with real-world problems to bring about the change you want to see in global politics. Late submissions of assignments, however, will not be accepted or reviewed. Thus, it is strongly advised to work ahead of each deadline. The course materials, quizzes, class meetings (both in-person and online), and a rubric will all help students to better understand the format for the political engagement report and practice the skills necessary to master this form of writing.

Throughout the semester, we will work on identifying problems and possible solutions in global politics. To that end, each student will identify and research a pressing problem in global politics about which they feel strongly. You will identify a global issue that concerns you, and “take action” on the issue in the political community. The scope of that political community is linked to your specific concern. For example, political communities can be conceptualized at the local level when students choose an issue that requires communication with local government officials or non-governmental organizations. The political community moves to a different level when students select broader concerns such as environmental or foreign policy issues, which often requires contact with state, national, and global-level state and non-state actors. The political engagement must take place in the Fall 2023 semester.

To encourage growth and provide the support and feedback you need, I have broken this assignment into two manageable chunks:

- Political Engagement Proposal: 10% of the final grade: You will submit a proposal discussing what global issue you’d like to take on, how it is a global issue, how it relates to our course content, background information on the issue (including alternative views), and how you plan to engage with this issue politically during the Spring 2023 semester. The proposal is due on Oct 3rd at 9:00 am (EST) in the Assignments folder.

A more detailed rubric for the Political Engagement Activity and the proposal is available under the Welcome Module on the eLC course page.

- Political Engagement Report: 10% of the final grade – Submit a 1000 words of double-spaced text expanding on your proposal (which political issue you chose, why you chose it, which political action you took to address that issue, and how it was related to the material we learned in class,) and include what you did specifically to address the issue as well as what you learned. The final report is due on Dec 5th at 9:00 am (EST) in the Assignments folder.

For more details, check Political Engagement Instructions and Grading Rubric and Political Engagement Grading Rubric under the Welcome Module on the eLC course page.

~ Map Test (10%) ~

10% of your final grade will be based on an in-class map quiz. As this is a global issues class, understanding the locations of countries and their capitals is essential to grasp the issues and conflicts we will explore throughout the semester.

Map quiz questions will typically require you to identify countries within specific regions covered in class or relate to particular topics discussed. To prepare for these quizzes, pay close attention whenever I present maps or mention specific countries, as this indicates the areas of focus.

To excel in the map quiz, keep up with the various regions we discuss in class and refer to an up-to-date atlas to locate and name countries on a blank map. Additionally, familiarity with the names of national capitals, rather than their precise locations on a map, will be crucial since capitals are often used synonymously when discussing countries.

The map quiz will require identification of the following:

- 15 countries.
- 5 national capitals.
- 10 major physical features of world geography.

To aid in your preparation, a study guide for the map quiz is available on the eLC course page. You can also utilize the following website to test and improve your geographic knowledge:

<http://lizardpoint.com/fun/geoquiz/worldquiz.html>

Engaging in thorough preparation for the map quiz will not only help you succeed in this assessment but also deepen your understanding of global issues and contribute to your overall success in the course.

~ Grading Scale ~

Please note that if you have specific grade requirements (for your major, for your scholarship, etc.), you need to make sure you work towards them from the beginning of the semester. Any efforts to get me to change your grade at the end of an assignment or the semester based on your sudden realization that you need a better grade than you actually earned will NOT be accommodated. I am more than happy to work with you throughout the semester. It is, therefore, in your best interest to talk to me early on. If you encounter any problems, you need to let me know so that I can help you as much as possible. I will not be able to help you after deadlines have passed, and the semester is over.

A	94 – 100 points		C	73 – 76.99 points

COURSE POLICIES

~ Communication and Email ~

I will keep you updated about the course and any changes to the syllabus through the “ANNOUNCEMENTS” board on the class ELC page.

- * To register for “Announcement Notifications” click on your name in the upper right-hand corner of the class eLC page > Notifications > Scroll down to “Instant Notifications > check the boxes for “Announcements.”
- * You can choose to have notifications sent to you by email or text message – students in the past have suggested that email is better as the content is incomplete in a text message.

I can respond quickly and effectively to your emails if you clearly identify some important information in your emails. Here is what helps:

- * Before you email me, please check the syllabus, welcome module, and the announcements page of the ELC site to be sure that your question has not been previously addressed. ELC problems are no excuse for having missed quizzes or announcements!
- * Sign your name as you are enrolled in the course – sometimes UGA email header does not include your name.
- * Please use appropriate salutations including my name in the opening and your name in the closing (Hint: you can't go wrong with "Hi Professor Saglam" or "Hi Dr. Saglam"). For further guidance see <http://www.wikihow.com/Email-a-Professor>
- * During the workweek, I generally respond to emails in a timely manner (usually within 24-48 hours). On weekends, I do not check emails regularly. Please do not expect a response before the beginning of the workweek.

~ Accessing Course ~

Course materials will be hosted primarily on eLC, though I will make use of other online tools for the purpose of communicating with you. If you are traveling, make sure that you have sufficient internet access time and unfettered access to the course site hosted on eLC and relevant services.

Please note that you're responsible for being aware of times when ELC is down for maintenance and for ensuring that all your work is submitted by the times noted (in Eastern Standard Time – which is important for you to note if traveling to a different time zone). As a best practice, please submit your work well before the deadlines as technical problems do arise.

~ The Use of Technology ~

All phones should be shut off or set to silent (not vibrate) before arriving to class. The use or interruption of these devices during regular class time will result in a reduction of your final grade, and during test periods will be treated as cheating.

It is important that you have reliable internet service, particularly as some of the assignments are time sensitive. You will also need access to a computer that allows you to engage with audiovisual content, such as YouTube videos. If you experience technical issues, you can contact the EITS Help Desk at: helpdesk@uga.edu. Please talk to me immediately if you are expecting to have computer or reliable internet problems this semester.

Finally, you're responsible for being aware of times when ELC is down for maintenance and for ensuring that all your work is submitted by the times noted (in Eastern Standard Time – which is important for you to note if traveling to a different time zone). As a best practice, please submit your work well before the deadlines as technical problems do arise. In the case of a rare technical problem, please notify me about the technical issue within 15 minutes of a deadline.

~ Life tokens ~

Sometimes things happen that get in the way of your best intentions to complete an assignment on time. To account for the unexpected situations in a way that is caring and flexible, I am implementing a “life token” policy, which means you may miss one module quiz and one module discussion without a grade penalty. In other words, I will drop the lowest module quiz and module discussion grade. You can use this as you like (e.g., illness, sports travel, interviews, sleep, conferences). Please get in touch with me or Student Care and Outreach immediately if there are extenuating circumstances that may lead you to miss more than one of these assignments.

~ Extensions & Late Assignments ~

Our due dates in this class are not arbitrary. The course’s pacing is designed to help you make steady and productive progress toward the learning objectives. As a result, it is especially important to (1) be aware of the deadlines for each assignment and (2) work well ahead of the deadlines. All module assignments will automatically lock after the time at which they are due and no late submission will be accepted. Submissions that are not received because of unapproved absence, technical problems, etc., will be a part of the “life token” or one freebie that is not counted towards your final grade.

The Political Engagement Proposal will be accepted up to four days late, with a 10% penalty for each day late. This means that an accepted assignment submitted anytime within the first 24 hours after the deadline that might have earned a 90 (an A-) would instead receive a 80 (a B-) and so forth. Due to the time constraint at the end of the semester, late submission of the PEA Final Report will also not be accepted or reviewed.

Beyond the one life token, extensions and make-ups are subject to the UGA class attendance policy, proper documentation, and my discretion.

~ Formatting ~

All written assignments should meet the following formatting requirements: Times New Roman, 12-point font, double spaced, 1” margins, and page number in the bottom right-hand corner.

~ Contested Grades ~

Students wishing to contest a grade must wait 24 hours after their assignment/exam has been returned to make an appointment to see me. During that appointment, students should come prepared with (1) a typed explanation of what the best possible response to the prompt would look like, (2) a typed explanation of how their work compares to that best answer, and (3) their class and reading notes. All requests for such meetings must be made within one week of the date the assignment/exam was returned. I shall re-evaluate your work and assign a “new” grade. Note, however, that this process may result in the same grade, a higher grade, or indeed a lower grade for that assignment. You are allowed this one appeal for each graded assignment; the re-grade will then stand.

~ Accommodations for Students with Disabilities ~

UGA is committed to providing equal access to academic programs and university-administered activities and reasonable modifications to students with disabilities. Students in need of academic accommodations need to request such services from the Disability Resource Center located at 114

Clark Howell Hall (for more information visit www.drc.uga.edu) and should make an appointment to see me with their appropriate paperwork from the DRC within the first two weeks of classes.

~ Netiquette and Policy on Disruptive Behavior ~

I will take your viewpoints seriously and want all of us to learn from one another over the course of the semester. In order to make this a successful class, it is important that we create an environment where everyone has an opportunity to learn. To facilitate this goal, I expect students to treat each other with respect, listen to conflicting opinions, and seek to discredit arguments rather than people. (Please, refer to the university policy on disruptive behavior and note that I reserve the right to remove students from class for disruptive and/or disrespectful behavior towards me or other students.)

~ Policy on academic dishonesty ~

I take academic honesty VERY seriously. In the interests of fairness and academic integrity, university policies will be strictly enforced. As a University of Georgia student, you have agreed to abide by the University's academic honesty policy, "A Culture of Honesty," and the Student Honor Code. All academic work must meet the standards described in "A Culture of Honesty". Lack of knowledge of the academic honesty policy is not a reasonable explanation for a violation. Any student caught cheating or plagiarizing will be referred to Judicial Affairs, as required by university policy. Make sure that you understand how to avoid charges of academic dishonesty.

~ Prohibition on Recording Lectures ~

In the absence of written authorization from the UGA Disability Resource Center, students may not make a visual or audio recording of any aspect of this course. Students who have a recording accommodation agree in writing that they:

- Will use the records only for personal academic use during the specific course.
- Understand that faculty members have copyright interest in their class lectures and that they agree not to infringe on this right in any way.
- Understand that the faculty member and students in the class have privacy rights and agree not to violate those rights by using recordings for any reason other than their own personal study.
- Will not release, digitally upload, broadcast, transcribe, or otherwise share all or any part of the recordings. They also agree that they will not profit financially and will not allow others to benefit personally or financially from lecture recordings or other course materials.
- Will erase/delete all recordings at the end of the semester.
- Understand that violation of these terms may subject them to discipline under the Student Code of Conduct or subject them to liability under copyright laws.

~ Mental Health and Wellness Resources ~

UGA has a vast array of resources to support students facing a variety of challenges. Please don't hesitate to come to speak with me or contact these resources directly:

- If you or someone you know needs assistance, you are encouraged to contact Student Care and Outreach in the Division of Student Affairs at 706-542-7774 or visit <https://sco.uga.edu>. They will help you navigate any difficult circumstances you may be facing by connecting you with the appropriate resources or services.

- If you need help managing stress anxiety, relationships, etc., please visit BeWellUGA (<https://www.uhs.uga.edu/bewelluga/bewelluga>) for a list of FREE workshops, classes, mentoring, and health coaching led by licensed clinicians and health educators in the University Health Center.
- Counseling and Psychiatric Services (CAPS) - 706-542-2273 (during regular business hours)
- After Hour Mental Health Crisis: 706-542-2200 (UGA Police—ask to speak to the CAPS on-call clinician)
- Relationship and Sexual Violence Prevention – 706-542-SAFE (Please note, faculty and staff are obligated to report any knowledge of sexual assault/relationship violence to UGA’s Equal Opportunity Office. The advocates at RSVP can provide student confidentially).

This syllabus provides a general plan for the course, and deviations may be necessary.
