

Prohibition on Recording Lectures

Students who are approved for an accommodation to record lectures through the Disability Resource Center, due to the impact of a documented disability, must sign an agreement with the DRC at the beginning of each semester. Detailed information, including a copy of the agreement, is available on the Disability Resource Center website. Otherwise, in the absence of written authorization from the UGA Disability Resource Center, students may not make a visual or audio recording of any aspect of SPIA courses. Students who have a recording accommodation agree in writing that they:

- Will use the recordings only for personal academic use during the specific course.
- Understand that faculty members have copyright interest in their class lectures and that they agree not to infringe on this right in any way.
- Understand that the faculty member and students in the class have privacy rights and agree not to violate those rights by using recordings for any reason other than their own personal study.
- Will not release, digitally upload, broadcast, transcribe, or otherwise share all or any part of the recordings. They also agree that they will not profit financially and will not allow others to benefit personally or financially from lecture recordings or other course materials.
- Will erase/delete all recordings at the end of the semester.
- Understand that violation of these terms may subject them to discipline under the Student Code of Conduct or subject them to liability under copyright laws.
