STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES

The United States offers a significant case example on the global stage toward understanding both how stable democracies develop and how challenges to democratic governance can evolve toward either reform or democratic decline. This course begins with a theoretical and practical understanding of the patterns that motivated revolution, contrasting the American experience with that of France, both at the end of the 18th century. We will explore the U.S. Constitution and its Amendments, devoting particular attention to the language it uses to define the actors, rights, obligations, and conditions of U.S. institutions and civil rights and liberties. We then discuss the institutions that characterize our separation of powers, contextualized within a scope of other developed democracies, particularly the United Kingdom. The remainder of the class will be dedicated to the relationship between civil society and the State, including political parties, mass media, interest groups, and political movements, as well as both U.S. domestic and foreign policy issues and debates.

By the end of the semester, students will:

1. Understand the foundational principles of the American government, including federalism, separation of powers, and checks and balances.
2. Identify and analyze the roles and functions of key governmental institutions such as the Executive, Legislative, and Judicial branches.
3. Evaluate political processes such as elections, policymaking, and the influence of interest groups, political parties, and media at the federal level and at the state level in Georgia.
4. Examine the significance of civil society, including NGOs, advocacy groups, and social movements, in shaping public policy and civic engagement.
5. Compare the U.S. governance system with those of other developed democracies, focusing on electoral systems, party dynamics, and citizen participation.
6. Analyze contemporary issues in American politics, applying theoretical frameworks to topics like polarization, social inequality, and democratic challenges.
7. Communicate effectively about American government through coherent arguments, respectful dialogue, and proficiency in research and citation.

EXAMS AND ASSIGNMENTS

Quizzes and Exams

You will have 15 quizzes available, one each week throughout the semester, including a syllabus quiz for Week 1, a movie quiz at the end of the semester, and 13 quizzes on the readings for each remaining week. Readings will be made available on eLC with a note on the required portion for each reading. For full credit, complete a minimum of 10 quizzes and I will take the 10 highest to calculate your grade. In addition, you will have two non-cumulative midterms and a comprehensive final. Details and a study guide for all exams will be made available the week prior to each exam.

Constitutional Amendments Project

During the first half of the semester, you will be divided into groups (or individually if enrollment is under 30 students) and asked to write a proposed amendment to the U.S. Constitution. Along with your amendment, you must submit a report indicating evidence of need for the amendment and what your amendment will do to resolve the issue. Evidence may come in many acceptable forms, some examples include: statements and trends associated with political movements on the issue; reports from relevant interest groups; and academic research from political science scholars, think tanks, and/or policymakers. All reports will be made available to the class preceding an in-class debate and vote. More details and a rubric will be made available on eLC.

Civic Engagement Activity

To internalize some of the themes and processes we will discuss in the Module on Civic Society and the U.S. State, this assignment asks you to pick one of the following activities and write a short 2-page report following the experience with some evidence of completion:

1. Write an Op-Ed for a newspaper on an issue you care about. (This can be a campus newspaper, a local newspaper, or a national newspaper, but it must be a newspaper in regular circulation (i.e., no online blogs). Publication is not required for the assignment. Evidence of completion would indicate at minimum a draft Op-Ed written with the audience of a particular newspaper in mind.
2. Write a Letter to a Representative or Senator, at the state or federal level, describing your concerns and what policy outcomes you would like to see achieved.
3. Volunteer at a local community organization, preferably in the Athens or Atlanta area.
4. Attend a Civic Event, such as a town hall meeting or an electoral debate. Virtual attendance is acceptable, though your report should include enough of a comprehensive and original commentary for me to evaluate your participation.

I will be engaging once in each of these activities throughout the semester. For the Op-Ed and Letter to a Representative, I will host a writing session on campus. For the volunteering activity and the civic event, I will share my schedule for these activities in advance. Students are welcome to join me so that engaging in a new activity alone shouldn't be a hurdle, or you may complete one of these activities in your own time. More details and a rubric on this assignment will be made available on eLC.

ATTENDANCE POLICY

Attendance will be taken randomly throughout the semester. Absences will only be excused for the following, discussed with me in advance: observance of a religious practice, documented (by a doctor or health clinic/hospital) sickness, or death of a relative or close friend. More than three cumulative absences without an above listed excuse will affect students' attendance and participation grades. Three unexcused absences are permitted without penalty. However, the fast-paced nature of this course and the use of supplemental materials in class, which will also appear on exams, will make it more difficult for students to do well in this course without being present.

ACADEMIC DISHONESTY

UGA Student Honor Code: “I will be academically honest in all of my academic work and will not tolerate academic dishonesty of others.” A Culture of Honesty, the University’s policy and procedures for handling cases of suspected dishonesty, can be found the website of Office of Instruction. We expect that the Student Honor Code will guide your efforts in this course. A lack of knowledge of the academic honesty policy does not explain a violation. Please direct any questions to the instructor.

COURSE POLICIES

The following is taken verbatim from the University Council: “The course syllabus is a general plan for the course; deviations announced to the class by the instructor may be necessary.”

The following is taken verbatim from LINK: “In the absence of written authorization from the UGA Disability Resource Center, students may not make a visual or audio recording of any aspect of this course. Students who have a recording accommodation agree in writing that they:

- Will use the records only for personal academic use during the specific course.
- Understand that faculty members have copyright interest in their class lectures and that they agree not to infringe on this right in any way.
- Understand that the faculty member and students in the class have privacy rights and agree not to violate those rights by using recordings for any reason other than their own personal study.
- Will not release, digitally upload, broadcast, transcribe, or otherwise share all or any part of the recordings. They also agree that they not profit financially and will not allow others to benefit personally or financially from lecture recordings or other course materials.
- Will erase/delete all recordings at the end of the semester.
- Understand that violation of these terms may subject them to discipline under the Student Code of Conduct or subject them to liability under copyright laws.”

FERPA STATEMENT

The following is taken verbatim from the Syllabus Checklist:

“The Federal Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) grants students certain information privacy rights. See the registrar’s explanation. FERPA allows disclosure of directory information (name, address, telephone, email, date of birth, place of birth, major, activities, degrees, awards, prior schools), unless requested in a written letter to the registrar.”

DISABILITY SERVICES

The following is taken verbatim from the Disability Resource Center:

“If you plan to request accommodations for a disability, please register with the Disability Resource Center. They can be reached by visiting Clark Howell Hall, calling 706-542-8719 (voice) or 706-542-8778 (TTY), or by visiting the Disability Resource Center”

The following is taken verbatim from the document of Syllabus Creation:

“Students with disabilities who require reasonable accommodations in order to participate in course activities or meet course requirements should contact the instructor or designate during regular office hours or by appointment.”

MENTAL HEALTH AND WELLNESS RESOURCES

The following is taken verbatim from the University Council:

“If you or someone you know needs assistance, you are encouraged to contact Student Care and Outreach in the Division of Student Affairs at 706-542-7774 or visit the website of Student Care and Outreach. They will help you navigate any difficult circumstances you may be facing by connecting you with the appropriate resources or services.

UGA has several resources for a student seeking mental health services or crisis support. If you need help managing stress anxiety, relationships, etc., please visit BeWellUGA for a list of FREE workshops, classes, mentoring, and health coaching led by licensed clinicians and health educators in the University Health Center. Additional resources can be accessed through the UGA App.”
